

I'm Moving In

Vers 1

Well I came into town and i took a look around But I couldn't see no life at first I was tired from travelling by train and I was dying from thirst

Vers 2

Then I saw a man standing by the water stand and i asked him for the local pub he said "Your in Deadtown and we aint got no pub, man"

Refrain

Well can't you see why I'm moving in I want somebody to be there by my chin
Well can't you see why I'm moving in
I need somebody to be there by my chin

Vers 3

Well I walked down Dead street on my two dead feet and suddenly a woman popped up I asked her "where can i go to look for some company"
She looked at me and said your in deadtown, and here's no company but I'm a Deadtown girl and you can go anywhere with me, yeah

I'm Moving In

Refrain

Well can't you see why I'm moving in
I want somebody to be there by my chin
Well can't you see why I'm moving in

Solo

Vers 4

Well I gave up the search and I felt a sudden urge to get back to the train again anybody who live in Deadtown must be half in seine I thought I won't come back with my private little sack
If i live to be 69
Until then I hope the people in Deadtown will be fine

Refrain

Well can't you see why I'm moving in
I want somebody to be there by my chin
Well can't you see why I'm moving in
I want somebody to be there by my chin yeah, I need somebody to be there by my chin
