Brutal Facts

- The Environment
- Barriers within Companies
- Barriers to Developing Intercultural Competence

What is a Competency?

Underlying characteristic of an individual or team that can be shown to predict effective superior performance in a job or situation.

(McClelland, 1973)

Global Leadership

“the process of influencing the thinking, attitudes, and behaviours of a global community to work together synergistically toward a common vision and shared goals”

(Adler, 2001 & Festing, 2001)

Global Leadership Research

- Over 600 articles (70 empirical studies)
- Overlapping Findings
- Multi-dimensional

Inquisitiveness

This competency appears both in the global leadership and expatriate literature as being related to intercultural effectiveness

Basic Profile

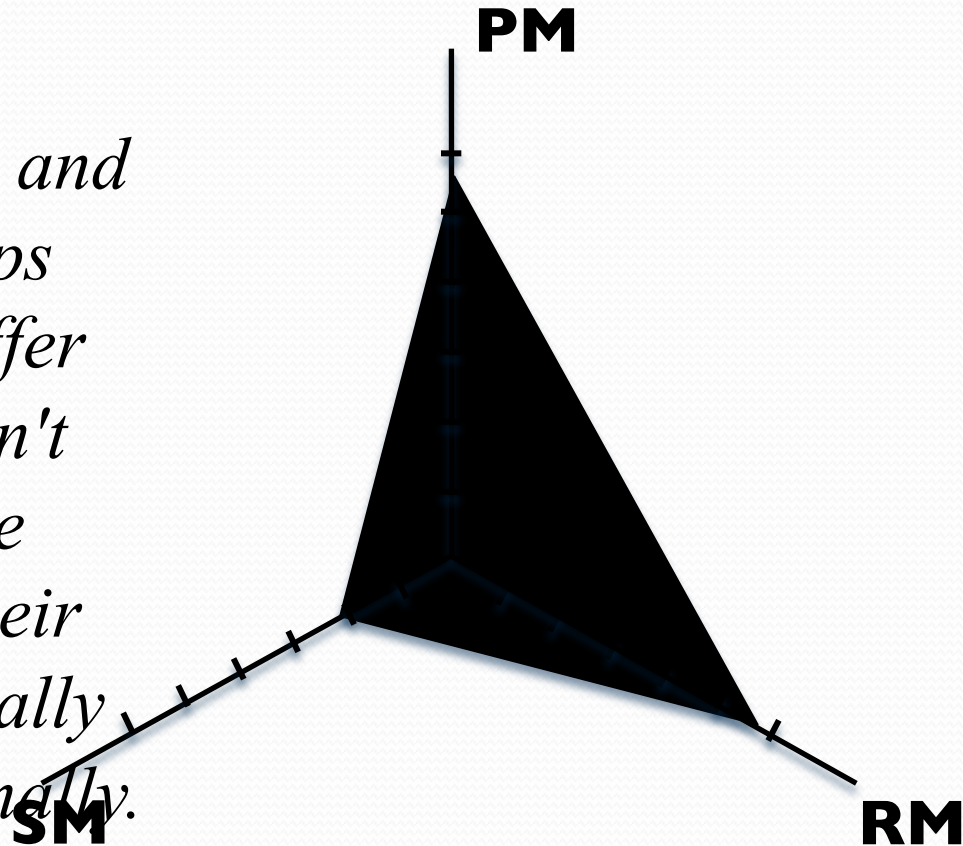

Globe Trotters

Enjoy learning about foreign places and people, easily initiate relationships with those who are different from them, and manage the personal challenges these create quite well
The world is their "backyard."

Discoverers

Like to learn about and develop relationships with people who differ from them. They don't always calculate the personal costs of their adventures and usually suffer some emotionally.

GlobeSmart® Dimensions

Your goal:

To know your profile and others' to leverage similarities & bridge gaps

Remember:

- Dimensions are on a continuum
- There is no “right” or “wrong” style
- Your Profile result is not a predictor of success

Key Dimensions of Culture

- What is my role?
- How do I derive my identity?

Independent

- Place importance on individual identity
- Derive identity from personal choices and achievements
- Prefer taking action on one's own

Interdependent

- Place importance on group harmony and cooperation
- Derive identity from group affiliation
- Feel a sense of duty, obligation, and loyalty to ascribed groups

Key Dimensions of Culture

How do I feel my group should be structured and power should be distributed?

Egalitarianism

- Be comfortable challenging the views of superiors
- Be flexible about roles
- Treat everyone much the same
- Assume power and authority should be shared broadly among a group

Status

- Prefer not to challenge those above them
- Be deferential to superiors
- Adapt behavior depending on relative status
- Assume power and authority should be reserved for a few members of a group

Key Dimensions of Culture

How do I make decisions in uncertain or ambiguous situations?

Risk

- Prefer rapid decision-making and quick results
- Place great importance on flexibility and initiative
- Value speed over thoroughness

Certainty

- Spend significant time on background research
- Establish proper procedures before starting a project
- Value thoroughness over speed

Key Dimensions of Culture

How do I communicate negative information and give feedback?

Direct

- Come to the point quickly
- Be forthright in asking questions in most settings
- Be comfortable making requests, giving direction, or disagreeing with others
- Give negative feedback directly

Indirect

- Spend time explaining the context before coming to the point
- Avoid asking questions in public settings
- Express disagreement in subtle ways
- Give negative feedback indirectly

Key Dimensions of Culture

When working on new projects, do I prefer to address tasks first, or relationships first?

Task

- Place high value on reaching goals and objectives on schedule
- Prioritize accomplishing tasks over maintaining relationships
- Focus on what people achieve more than who they know

Relationship

- View time building relationships as key to achieving good results
- Prioritize maintaining relationships over accomplishing tasks on time
- Focus on who people know as much as what they themselves
