2ND INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS ON PERSONALIZED HEALTH CARE

1. CONTEXT

At the dawn of the 21st century, the most recent research in molecular biology, advances in genomics, and the resources available due to technological advances in data management enabled the development of a more specific medical approach focusing on the individual genetic make-up and his or her environment. This P4 Medicine (personalized, predictive, preventive and participatory health care) is expected to redefine health care management. However, the application of such a medical approach also raises certain questions regarding technological, financial, ethical and legal issues, as well as the integration of this approach into health systems already in place. The 2nd International Congress on Personalized Health Care will be held in Montreal on September 23 to 26, 2018 in order to review all these questions and to evaluate the utility of this form of medicine.

The aim of this important event is to bring together more than 800 specialists, researchers, academics, clinicians, managers, economists, representatives of patient associations, ethicists and experts from the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, information and communication technology (ICT) in health and medical technology fields in order to share ideas and pool resources with regard to the development of personalized medicine. The congress will also provide a unique opportunity to present the various research projects currently underway in Quebec for which more than $ 400 million has been invested since 2009.

The Organizing Committee is composed of :

- Centre de recherche du Centre hospitalier de l'Université de Montréal (CRCHUM)
Johanne Tremblay
Pavel Hamet
Michelle Savoie
- Montréal In Vivo
Nathalie Ouimet
- Génome Quebec
Marie-Kym Brisson

2ND INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS ON PERSONALIZED HEALTH CARE

2. POSITIONING

By showcasing new research outcomes, best practices and innovative projects, this global hub will focus on the challenges of developing and implementing personalized health care. Its content and dynamic presentation format will make for an event that is truly unique.

While placing the individual at the centre of its discussions, the 2nd International Congress on Personalized Health Care will highlight the importance and necessity of concerted action, in accordance with the hopes of all stakeholders from the field.

Focusing on the theme “15th Anniversary of the Completion of the Human Genome Project: Challenging Transition from OMICS Discoveries to Responsible Application” the International Congress will serve as a vast issue table where ideas and resources are shared.

3. OBJECTIVES

Holding the 2nd International Congress on Personalized Health Care meets a number of objectives:

- Reviewing, on a global scale, the major issues related to the development of personalized health care and the challenges facing the main stakeholders.
- Informing all stakeholders, especially public authorities, concerning the importance and impact of personalized health care.
- Highlighting best practices from both here and abroad so as to foster the integration of personalized health care into health systems, taking into account an approach centered on the individual genetic makeup in the context of his or her environment..
- Discuss the impact of genetic testing on the individual, his or her family and society.
- Putting into perspective research, clinical experience, and information technologies development in order to enable a comprehensive and concerted approach that promotes the establishment of personalized health care.
- Taking full advantage of the extraordinary infrastructures offered by Montreal and the Palais des congrès as a destination for congresses and benefiting from know-how that has enabled Montreal to position itself as the leading host destination in North America for international events.

2ND INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS ON PERSONALIZED HEALTH CARE

4. PROGRAM

Based on the presence of renowned speakers and supported by a call for papers process designed to take the pulse of the international community, the program intends to meet the aforementioned objectives by proposing four days of discussion, training and networking around such topics as:

15th Anniversary of the Completion of the Human Genome Project: Challenging Transition from OMICS Discoveries to Responsible Application

- THEME 1: A WIDE RANGE of ‘-OMICS’ DISCIPLINES (transcriptomics, proteomics, metabolomics, epigenomics, metagenomics, pharmacogenomics, vaccinomics, etc.)
15 years after the completion of the human genome project in 2003, this project has set the stage for rapid development of ‘-omics’ languages. Health care have been marked by the application of genomic knowledge to daily life and ‘-omics’ disciplines play an important role in disease processes. With the technological advancements made over recent years, there is a growing use of genomic tools for clinical decisions.
- THEME 2: BIG DATA – ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE for OMICS
Being relevant for research scientists, clinicians, bioinformaticians and data users interested in integrating genomic results into the clinical setting, this theme will focus on recent developments in analytical tools and resources that are facilitating big data integration, exploration, clinical advice utility and ethical issues raised by data sharing and usage for personalized medicine.
- THEME 3: CURRENT AND FUTURE APPLICATIONS OF PERSONALIZED MEDICINE
This theme will showcase recent advances in genomics, genome editing, direct genome engineering (e.g. CRISPR) disease mechanisms, risk prediction and pharmacogenetics for personalized drug therapy.
- THEME 4: PUBLIC HEALTH GENOMICS
This theme will provide a forum of discussion of social issues and regulatory challenges surrounding personalized medicine application together with patient care.

Exhibition area and place of business

The 2nd International Congress on Personalized Health Care will offer a true place to facilitate networking and maximize business opportunities. It will also host a dynamic exhibition area, set up at the epicentre of the congress activities. This event will provide a venue for demonstrations, and technical workshops and also offer meeting areas where researchers, manufacturers and managers can connect. This approach is meant to create business opportunities, which will in turn ensure the development of the resources and tools required to establish personalized health care systems that are appropriate, effective and profitable.

Public Forum

An important Public Forum will raise public awareness on the importance of personalized health care and the impact of this new medical approach on our lives and health. Activities offered to citizens will highlight major social issues related to the implementation of personalized health care, while a public exhibition area will showcase the most recent technological innovations in consumer health.

Participant Profile

Some 800 participants are expected to attend the 2nd International Congress on Personalized Health Care. The multidisciplinary nature of the field of personalized health care enables many healthcare professionals, researchers, computer scientists, geneticists, managers and citizens to participate in the event. Through the concerted efforts of all stakeholders, participants are expected to come from all continents.

5. PROMOTION

A CONGRESS WITH INTERNATIONAL EXPOSURE

In order to promote the 2nd International Congress on Personalized Health Care (ICPHC 2018) there will be a promotional campaign in Quebec, North America and internationally, through the concerted efforts of several partners and associations with strong industry networks.

The promotional campaign will rely in particular on the following channels:

- a bilingual website updated in real time which will form the congress' portal, leading to the online registration site, call for papers system, all program details and useful information for future participants
- a sustained presence on the interactive Web 2.0 social networks;
- targeted electronic mailings to potential participants, built specifically for the promotion of ICPHC 2018;
- Several professional political and business networks will be invited to relay information and disseminate messages about ICPHC 2018 in their respective community i.e. partners, associations, universities, patient associations, etc.;
- cross-promotion with other industry related events and ICPHC website hyperlink on their respective websites;
- participation of ICPHC representatives at high profile events with similar target markets;
- ICPHC official congress' dates will be indicated in various industry agendas and electronic directories;
- print and electronic documents: first announcement, preliminary program and final program. Special efforts will be made to limit the amount of printed material and to promote electronic communication through the web and interactive social media;
- free advertising on ICPHC partners' web sites;
- public relations campaign: press releases to all major medical publications and local medias;
- promotional activities and an advertising campaign to invite the public to public forum.

6. DESTINATION

Montreal is an island located in the heart of North America. It is an island in many ways, geographically, linguistically and culturally. The second largest French-speaking city in the world, Montreal is not only a cosmopolitan city, but also a great international city and UNESCO City of Design.

Montreal has a sense of space and has a great artistic and cultural pride. Montreal is also a leading destination for congresses, the first destination for international associative events in North America, according to the recent results of the 2014 preliminary rankings of the International Congress and Convention Association (ICCA). All international congress held in Montreal therefore has an undeniable advantage conferred by its attractive destination reputation. A trip to Montreal is always unique because there is something for every tastes in an environment that is safe at any time of day or night.

8. MORE THAN AN EXHIBITION

ICPHC 2018 will offer a true place to facilitate networking and maximize business opportunities. It will also host a DYNAMIC exhibition, set up at the epicentre of the congress activities, on September 24, 25 and 26, 2018.

WHO SHOULD EXHIBIT?

- Clinical Laboratory Testing Services
- Diagnostic Companies
- Personalized Medicine Service Providers
- Health Insurance Companies
- IT/Informatics Companies
- Biotech/Pharmaceutical Companies
- Patient Advocacy Groups
- Research, Education & Clinical Care Institution

WHY EXHIBIT?

- To get one-on-one interaction with key players actively involved in personalized medicine around the world.
- To experience a unique tailored experience where you will access a congress concierge who will help you achieve your objectives and maximize connections.
- To network and explore synergy and collaboration opportunities with other exhibitors and colleagues and gain insights on the market trends, challenges and opportunities.
- To be part of the content, via the innovation zone where exhibitors will be invited to present in a Ted-talk format.
- To reach the key decision makers in the global market and contribute to discussions about its integration into the health system.
- To enjoy all the benefits of our highly effective, innovative marketing support, helping you maximize your return on the show including access to interactive BRAIN DATING platform at no additional cost where you will be able to connect with delegates and schedule appointment with targeted participants.

An exhibition at the epicentre of the congress activities

To maximize traffic, the exhibition area will feature several services and activities likely to interest and attract the attendees, such as:

- Poster sessions
- Internet Zone (computer stations with High-speed Internet access)
- Recharge Zone offering participants resting area, and telephone and tablet charging stations
- Interactive Program Terminals dedicated to program and abstract consultation
- A food & beverage area, as well as all coffee breaks

Maximize your visibility

By taking part in the ICPHC exhibition, you will benefit from a HIGH visibility and be able to generate more profitable meetings.

Visibility offered to exhibitors

- Mention of the exhibitor in the Exhibitor Directory found on the ICPHC website
- Mention of the exhibitor in the Exhibitor Directory found on the USB key given to participants
- Hyperlink from ICPHC 2018 website
- Possibility of submitting one or more presentations to be held in the Innovation zone
- Participation to the BRAIN DATING program: create connections with delegates and schedule APPOINTMENT with targeted participants
