

MURP Speaker Series

Thursday, April 20, 2023

2:15-4:00pm, Josie Johnson Room, Humphrey School 180

Please join us for Meg McMahan's presentation Transparency, Accountability, and Justice: How the role of community planner has evolved to respond to shifting sentiments of power and privilege in our communities. Meg will talk about her career path and how her perspectives about her role as change agent and public servant have evolved over the last several years; shaped by working for communities devastated by civil unrest and the global pandemic.

2:15-2:30pm – Gather (light refreshments provided)

2:30-3:30pm – Program

3:30-4:00pm – Informal conversation

About Meg

Meg McMahan, AICP, is the Director of Planning for the City of Minneapolis, where she works to leverage development and rethink regulatory systems to drive equitable outcomes. Prior to Minneapolis, Meg worked for the City of Brooklyn Center as the Community Development Director where she led the department through a transitional time, which resulted in new approaches that were community-centered and met the needs of a diverse and dynamic citizenry. Prior to Brooklyn Center, Meg worked for the City of Hopkins as the Community Development Coordinator. There her focus was on small businesses, light rail coordination and project management. She received her Master of Urban and Regional Planning from the Humphrey School of Public Affairs.

HUMPHREY SCHOOL
OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA