DID YOU KNOW?

Artists For Humanity employs under-resourced Boston teens annually in art and design. AFH provides a safe space for teens to engage in experiential art and enterprise learning during out-of-school time. More importantly, they get paid to do this, utilizing their unique voice to create fine art, large-scale murals, furniture, sculptural wall art, branded promotional materials, screen printed apparel, portrait and event photography, event recordings and more - for clients all over our city, and beyond!
