Hello all!

I hope you are all doing well... this is John Havel, board member of the Outer Banks Lighthouse Society and for a few of you, we have not chatted since 2013... others I have seen more recently.

The Outer Banks Lighthouse Society board of directors has decided to renew, refurbish, and republish the 2013 OBLHS Lighthouse Coloring Book (attached) that you helped create for the Bodie Island Lighthouse Descendants Homecoming celebration in October of 2013. The drawings you provided were all very beautiful and very much appreciated by the Society as well as by the hundreds of children and adults who received the coloring books at the 2013 event and since that time at our other events.

Our plan is to add new lighthouse-related drawings to expand the publication and to offer the coloring book for sale in our online store and at Society events. I am not asking for any more drawings from any of you, but I am writing today, as directed by my board, to ask your permission to use your drawings in the new, revised edition of the coloring book, but because the Society does wish to offer these for sale, it is necessary that we get your permission first. The use of the your drawing would be a donation to our Society in our ongoing efforts to preserve and educate the public about lighthouses in North Carolina. At this time there is no timeline or deadline set for the new edition, so I cannot state when these would be printed or complete, but if you do not wish your drawing(s) to be used in this way, we will remove it from the final publication.

Thank you for your consideration,

Yours truly,

Hi John,

I'm fine with use of my drawing for this. I hope it benefits the Society's efforts .

John,

I'm all good, man. Use my drawings.
Thanks for the heads up!
